3. Forecast of consolidated business results for the full financial year ending 31 March 2007
(1 April 2006 - 31 March 2007)

Because the main business activity of our corporate group is the buying and selling of securities, our earnings are strongly influenced by market conditions, etc. For this reason, we do not conduct forecasts of our business results.

Our Corporate Group

Our corporate group is composed of 21 subsidiaries and 3 affiliates. The business activities of our company and of 15 of the subsidiaries and 3 of the affiliates consist mainly of trading securities, the commissioning of securities trading, the underwriting and selling of securities, offering and selling of securities, handling of private offerings, and other securities- and finance-related activities, as well as a wide range of services in the areas of raising and operating funds for customers. The other companies provide services related to and supportive of our company's activities, conduct market surveys and research, manage real estate, and more. Therefore, our corporate group's business activities all come under the single business segment of "investment and financial services."

[Business Performance and Financial Position]

1. Business Performance

In the third quarter of the current financial year, the Japanese economy continued on the whole to expand at a moderate rate. Thus, while growth in exports slowed down from the summer onwards due to a cooling off of foreign economies, and personal spending also fell off temporarily due to, among other things, unseasonable summer weather, domestic demand, led by capital investment, continued on a steady course, contributing significantly to the generally favorable situation. During the period, the equity markets got off to a good start, with the Nikkei Stock Average rising above 17,500 early on. Beginning in May, however, stock prices fell worldwide while the dollar depreciated against the yen, resulting in a period of rapid adjustments that, in mid-June, saw the Nikkei fall below 14,300 yen. Subsequently, bolstered by a rebound in overseas stock prices and a depreciating yen, the equity markets began to rally; and due to such factors as positive assessments of corporate results and foreigners once again purchasing more shares than they were selling because of a general sense that Japanese stocks were slow to reflect actual conditions and were thus undervalued, the Nikkei was able to return to above 17,200 yen by the end of the period. In the bond market, the yield on 10-year government bonds, affected by speculation about when the Bank of Japan would end its long-maintained zero interest rate and by rising interest rates abroad, temporarily climbed above 2.0%; but then, following the abandonment of the zero interest rate in mid-July, calm returned to the market against a backdrop of stable domestic prices and a worldwide decrease in long-term interest rates. While the 10-year rate did undergo a round of sharp fluctuations in response to a further rate hike by the Bank of Japan, it ended up finishing the period slightly below 1.7%.

Meanwhile, overseas, in the U.S. economy, the housing market continued to undergo major adjustments, but consumption and investment both remained steady, so that the ongoing slowdown was kept to a gradual pace. On the other hand, in the European economies, a recovery initiated by exports spread to domestic demand and thus continued at a favorable clip. With regard to equity markets, those in the U.S. began plummeting in mid-May because of increased concerns that interest rates would continue to be raised; in the summer, however, prices (especially of large-capitalization stocks), undergirded by expectations of a cessation in interest rate hikes and by solid corporate earnings, began a steady climb that continued until the end of the period. Across the Atlantic, European equity markets also underwent a phase of rapid adjustment but then - in light of expectations that economic conditions and corporate earnings would both improve - took an upwards turn, adjusting their pace to American equity markets. In overseas bond markets, the start of the period saw a temporary phase of adjustment occur in response to the continuing climb in both oil prices and U.S. interest rates; but from summer onwards, yields in both the United States and Europe remained steady, sustained by, among other things, expectations of U.S. interest rate cuts and a decline in energy prices.

Under these circumstances, our corporate group earned consolidated operating revenues for this period of 103.882 billion yen (95.1% of that for the same period last year), an ordinary profit of 18.614 billion yen (65.6%), and a net profit of 14.783 billion yen (57.0%). A brief breakdown of these results follows:

(1) Commissions and fees received

Commissions and fees received during this period totaled 66.502 billion yen (92%). A breakdown of this income follows:

- Brokerage commissions

The average daily turnover during the period in the sections 1 and 2 of the Tokyo Stock Exchange was 2.5024 trillion yen (120.8%). Our company brokered the sale of 5.359 billion shares of stock (60.1%) worth 9.8379 trillion yen (122.7%), while our commissions on the same totaled 26.696 billion yen (65.0%). Commissions earned on bond brokering totaled 102 million yen (120.9%).

- Underwriting and selling fees

In the market for stock issues, our company underwrote and sold the stock of 75 newly public companies during the current period, serving as lead manager in 20 of these cases. Moreover, we underwrote and sold secondary issues of stock for 37 public companies, serving as lead manager in 4 cases. Moreover, with regard to J-REITs, we underwrote the public offerings and secondary issues of 11 companies, serving as lead manager in 3 cases. As a result, our group's commissions from underwriting and selling stock reached 5.162 billion yen (112.2%).

On the other hand, in the bond market, we served as lead manager for 1 municipal bond and joint lead manager for another; as lead manager for 8 corporate bonds including joint lead manager; and as either lead manager or joint lead manager for 3 bond issues from financial investment institutions. As a result, our commissions from underwriting and selling bonds totaled 914 million yen (139.6%).

- Offering, selling, and other fees and commissions

This income is made up chiefly of fees and commissions we earn selling investment trusts to our customers and service commissions.

In the area of distributed investment trusts, for which there is strong demand among individual investors due to Japan's long-continuing super-low interest rates, we strengthened our lineup of products by newly offering the "Shinko 7 Assets Balance Fund".

On the other hand, in the area of investment trusts, which invest in equities, we newly introduced "Nippon Steel Group Open," which seeks to profit from the growth of the steel industry, and "Shinko Pure India Equity Fund," which invests in India, for which expectations of growth are high.

In addition, we introduced "Seven Leaves Capital Preservation Fund-Principal Protection Strategy Ivy Clarus 2006-09 (USD)," a foreign investment trust that aims to obtain an absolute return through hedge funds and to guarantee the investor's dollar-denominated principal at the time of redemption.

As a result, commissions from the sale of investment trusts reached 13.571 billion yen (113.6%) Other fees and commissions totaled 20.008 billion yen (144.5%).

(2) Trading profits

The period saw us earn trading profits of 5.228 billion yen (43.7%) on equity trading, and 22.591 billion yen (107.1%) on the trading of bonds and other instruments. Total trading profits thus stood at 27.819 billion yen (84.2%).

(3) Financial profit/loss

Deducting financial expenses of 6.987 billion yen (210.7%) from financial revenues of 8.826 billion yen (235.9%) gives a financial profit of 1.838 billion yen (432.3%).

(4) Selling, general and administrative expenses

During the period, although real estate expenses, etc. decreased, transaction expenses, office expenses, etc. increased, resulting in total selling, general and administrative expenses of 82.188 billion yen (102.6%).

(5) Extraordinary profits and losses

As extraordinary profit, we recorded 3.615 billion yen from the sale of investment securities and 859 million yen in software licensing fees. On the negative side, we recorded an extraordinary loss of 675 million yen. Thus, overall, we posted an extraordinary profit of 4.086 billion yen.

2. Financial position

Net cash used in operating activities was 52.472 billion yen due to such factors as an increase in trading securities and loans receivable secured by securities.

Net cash used in investment activities totaled 7.137 billion yen due to such factors as an increase in IT system investments.

Net cash provided in financing activities was 52.702 billion yen due to such factors as an increase in short-term loans payable and proceeds from our issue of commercial paper and corporate bonds.

As a result of these flows, the balance of cash and cash equivalents stood at 110.912 billion yen at the end of the period.

[About the consolidated financial statements]

These consolidated financial statements follow the provisions of Ministry of Finance (MoF) Ordinance No.24 (1999) entitled “The Rules for Terms, Formats, and Preparation Method of Interim Consolidated Financial Statements” and also comply with the provisions stipulated in Articles 48 and 69 of said ordinance. In addition, they are compiled in accordance with Prime Ministerial and MoF Ordinance No.32 (1998) entitled “Cabinet Ordinance Concerning Securities Companies” and the resolution entitled “Unification of Securities Business Accounting ” adopted by the Japan Securities Dealers Association on 14 November 1974.

[Basic Important Matters for Preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements]

1. Matters regarding the scope of consolidation

(1) Consolidated subsidiaries (16 subsidiaries)

Major subsidiaries

Shinko Securities Business Services Co., Ltd.

Shinko Investment Co., Ltd.

Shinko Investment Trust Management Co., Ltd.

Nippon Securities Technology Co., Ltd.

(2) Non-consolidated subsidiaries (5 subsidiaries)

Major subsidiary

Shinko IPO Investment Business Fund No.1

2. Matters concerning the application of equity method

Equity-method affiliates (3 affiliates)

CUBIC Venture Capital Co., Ltd.

Mitoyo Securities Co., Ltd.

Eiwa Securities Co., Ltd.

3. Matters concerning the period of consolidated subsidiaries

With regard to our consolidated subsidiaries, we use and consolidate their financial statements from closings conducted on the same dates as the parent company's closings.

4. Matters concerning the accounting standard

(1) Valuation method for significant assets

1) Valuation method for securities classed as trading products (securities held for trading purpose):

Securities and derivative contracts classed as trading products and held by our company or subsidiaries are recorded at present market value.

2) Valuation method for securities not classed as trading products:

The following valuation methods are applied to securities that are not held for trading purposes:

a) Bonds that are to be held to maturity.

The depreciable cost (straight-line) method is used.

b) Other securities

Securities, etc. that have market values:

The present market value is recorded on the consolidated balance sheets and differences between this and acquisition cost is incorporated into the capital account in full. The selling price is based on the moving-average cost method.

Securities, etc. that have no market values

Valued using mainly the moving-average cost method.

Moreover, with regard to contributions to limited liability unions of the investment industry and similar unions (according to Article 2, Paragraph 2 of the Securities and Exchange Law, such contributions are regarded as negotiable securities), we use, as the acquisition price, the value of our holdings of union assets as designated on the union's most recent statement of accounts that we are able to obtain as of the day - stipulated in the union contract - on which the latest statement of accounts is reported. With regard to profit and loss obtained from the operations of the union, etc., we use a method whereby we record the value of our holdings under profit and costs.

(2) Depreciation methods used for significant depreciable assets

1) Tangible fixed assets

Both our company and domestic consolidated subsidiaries use mainly fixed-percentage depreciation. However, buildings acquired after 1 April 1998 (excluding the equipment, etc. they contain) are depreciated using the straight-line (fixed amount) method.

2) Intangible fixed assets and long-term prepaid expenses

The straight-line method is used.

Moreover, software for our own use is depreciated using a straight-line method with the fixed amount of depreciation being determined by the duration of its potential internal use (5 years).

(3) Handling of significant deferred assets

The entire cost of issuing corporate bonds is handled as a cost at the time that it occurs.

(4) Accounting standards for significant reserves and allowances

1) Allowance for bad debts

In preparation for loss from bad debt in loans receivables, etc., the recoverable possibilities of general receivables are reviewed based on the ratio of past uncollectibles and those of specific receivables including the ones that are likely to become bad debts are individually reviewed, so that the irrecoverable amount can be estimated.

2) Reserve for bonus

To prepare for the payment of bonuses to employees, we calculated the estimated value of future payments and charged an appropriate portion of this obligation to the period.

3) Reserves for retirement benefits

To prepare for the payment of employee pensions, the difference between the value of such obligations and the total value of our pension assets at the end of the period was estimated, and the portion of the additional shortfall considered to have arisen in the period was charged to the period.

Past service liabilities are regarded at any time as being a number of years (10 years) that fall within the average number of years' service remaining for each employee. These liabilities are amortized and charged to the period for which it was calculated using the straight-line method.

Actuarial gains and losses are also charged after amortizing by the straight-line method a number of years (10 years) that fall within the average number of years' service remaining for each employee. However, in this case, the charges are recorded in the following consolidated financial year.

(5) Standards for translating significant assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies

Foreign currency denominated claims and obligations are translated into Japanese yen at the spot rate prevailing on the closing day of the period. Currency translation losses or gains are recorded on the income statement as such.

The assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses of foreign subsidiaries are also translated into Japanese yen at the spot rate prevailing on the day the consolidated balance sheet was compiled. Any translation losses or gains are recorded in the capital account under the heading "Foreign currency translation adjustment".

(6) Handling of significant lease transaction

In the case of finance leases where ownership is not deemed to have passed to the lessee, normal accounting procedures for leases are followed.

(7) Method of significant hedge accounting

In order to hedge our exposure to cash flow fluctuations caused by borrowing at variable interest rates, we enter into interest rate swap contracts. These are handled on a case-by-case basis.

(8) Accounting for consumption tax, etc.

The tax exclusion method is applied.

5. Scope of cash and cash equivalents included in the consolidated cash flow statement

The cash movements recorded in the consolidated cash flow statement are those of cash and cash equivalents. Assets classed as cash or cash equivalents are cash on hand, deposits for which no notice of withdrawal is required, and highly liquid short-term investments that carry next to no price risk and have a maturity of less than three months.
